30 years of his life collecting and studying these fossil prints and trackways. Over 10,000 prints are preserved here at the Pratt Museum. It is the largest collection of prints in the world and contains the first fossil evidence of dinosaurs in North America. The study of animal traces is called ICHNOLOGY.

Sketch 3 prints you find interesting. Include a scale, perhaps using your hand.